Railroad Freight Boost Approved

6% Hike Given Fast OK By ICC On Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's railroads had permission today to boost by 6 per cent the rates they charge for most freight they haul across state lines.

In the fastest general rate increase action on record, the Interstate Commerce Commission Friday authorized the increase to become effective next Wednesday. On many farm commodities and some minerals, the ICC ordered the rate increase held under 6 per cent.

The same increases were authorized also for domestic water carriers.

Sought 7% Hike

The railroads had sought a flat 7 per cent rate rise, citing increased labor and materials costs. Seeking quick action, they had offered to refund the increased charges if the ICC found later that they were not justified.

But the ICC closed the case late Friday with a finding that a general 6 per cent rate advance was warranted by operating expense increases "amounting to more than 500 million dollars annually." The new rates thus are not subject to refunding.

Industry officials estimated the ICC order would result in hiking freight billings by about 423 million a year.

5% On Grains, Meat

The commission limited to 5 per cent the advance on grains, livestock, fresh meats, and packing-house products. It ruled that coal and coke freight rates could not be increased more than 15 cents a ton. Lignite increases were held to 7 cents a ton.

Similar "hold-downs" were ordered to fresh fruits and vegetables, melons, nuts, canned and preserved foods, lumber products, sugar, syrup, phosphate rock, salt, potash and manure salts.

Railroad men said these qualifications made the rate revision equivalent to an over all increase of less than 5 per cent.

Progress Reported In Westinghouse Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Continued slow progress was reported today in government efforts to settle the 139-day Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike.

There were hints a major break in the talks may come over the weekend, but this could not be officially confirmed. Mediators in charge of the talks kept silent, although obviously encouraged.

They kept mediation sessions going last night until nearly midnight, in the second straight night session.

About 55,000 Westinghouse workers have been idle in 40 plants since last October. The bulk of the strikers are represented by the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), the union engaged in the peace talks here.

Major issues in the strike are wage rates, length of contract, management rights to make efficiency changes, and worker discharge during the strike for alleged violence. The pre-strike wage rate was $2.10 an hour.

Vehicles Damaged

A car operated by George H. Cattley, of Darlington, Pa., and a truck driven by George T. Morrow of Frazeyburg, Ohio received minor damage in a collision at the intersection of E. State St. and N. Lincoln Ave., at 3:50 p.m. Friday police reported.

An auto, owned by Richard E. Keller of 180 W. 14th St., parked on S. Lundy Ave. received minor damage when the emergency brake failed on a car owned by John M. Schobel of Berlin Center, parked in the rear of 451 Pershing Ave. causing the car to roll 96 feet down a grade and strike the Keller vehicle.

against the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, three NAACP attorneys, Mrs. Pollie Ann Hudson and Miss Autherine J. Lucy.

All stemmed from charges contained in a contempt of court proceeding filed in federal court by Miss Lucy Feb. 9.

In that court action, Miss Lucy named Ed and Ed Watts and Kenneth L. Thompson, construction workers in Tuscaloosa, and R. E. Chambliss, Birmingham, a truck driver, as members of the mob.

Each now asserts in the civil damage suit that the charges were "false and known to be false" and were the results of a conspiracy by the NAACP and the others named.

The suits were filed in the Jefferson County (Birmingham) Circuit Court and each demanded a trial before a jury.

Miss Lucy, the first Negro ever enrolled at Alabama, was "permanently expelled" on disciplinary grounds by the university's trustees at a secret meeting Wednesday.

The 26-year-old former school teacher originally had been suspended by the trustees on Feb. 6 after students and "outsiders" had rioted for three days protesting her admission.

After the suspension, Miss Lucy asked the federal court here to cite 13 university officials and trustees, together with the four who filed the suits, for contempt. She charged they had conspired to bar her from the campus by using the mob action as a "cunning stratagem."

Miss Lucy's admission to the university, incidentally, was on the basis of a federal court order issued last July. The matter of whether she should be admitted had been fought successfully up to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Mrs. Hudson at one time also sought enrollment in the university in companion actions with Miss Lucy. After a series of marital difficulties and the birth of a child, however, she dropped her efforts.

Both Miss Lucy's case and that of Mrs. Hudson have been handled by the NAACP and three NAACP attorneys, Thurgood Marshall and Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York and Arthur D. Shorer of Birmingham, all of whom were included among the civil damage defendants.

In the contempt hearing Wednesday before federal Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms, Marshall asked that the actions against the four men who have now entered suit be dropped and that all conspiracy charges be eliminated.

Had No Evidence

At that time Marshall said, "after careful investigation we are unable to produce any evidence to support these allegations."

Grooms held that none of the

FBI Nabs Another Of 10 Most Wanted

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The FBI struck another name from its list of 10 most wanted fugitives today and summoned Palmer Julius Morset, 49, before a U.S. commissioner on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Morset, unarmed and unresisting, was arrested by FBI agents at his home here last night. Leonard Blaylock, agent in charge of the Indianapolis FBI office, said he was wanted for armed robbery of several Chicago finance companies in 1950.

Blaylock said Morset had been living in Indianapolis three years under the name of Thomas F. Rooney and had been working as a water softener salesman. Blaylock said Morset told him he had not committed any offenses during those three years.

The FBI agent said Morset disappeared from Chicago in 1951 while under bond in connection with a finance company robbery March 20, 1951.

Blaylock quoted Morset as saying: "I knew it was bound to happen. I am tired of running, I am glad it is over."

Morset was on parole from one year to life sentence for armed robbery in Illinois. He was released from the Illinois State Prison at Joliet May 30, 1940, after serving 11½ years.

Autherine Lucy To Try Again

Will Renew Fight To Enter Alabama U.

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Autherine Lucy says she will return South "within the next week" and renew her fight to enter the all-white University of Alabama.

"I cannot see any reason to abandon my sole purpose of obtaining an education within the meaning of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Her lips trembled and her voice quavered as she read her statement.

Four File Suits

In Birmingham, Ala., meanwhile, four men filed suits asking four million dollars damages from Miss Lucy, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and others. The four charged they were falsely accused of taking part in mob action that drove her from the university Feb. 6.

The school suspended Miss Lucy the same day. Last Wednesday, however, Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms ordered her reinstated. But before she could re-enter, the university trustees expelled her. They said she falsely accused school officials of conspiring with the mob to keep her out.

Needed Rest, Quiet

Miss Lucy flew to New York Thursday with NAACP Atty. Thurgood Marshall. He said she was worn out and needed "rest, peace and quiet."

Newsmen were not allowed to question Miss Lucy at a brief news conference.

"I have been advised by my lawyers that there are legal steps available to me to test the validity or invalidity of this latest action by the board of trustees. I have therefore authorized them to take whatever steps are necessary for this purpose."

She said she plans to return to Birmingham "within the next week."

National Rubber Co. Seeks Crescent Plant

Negotiations are under way between officials of the National Rubber Machinery Company of Columbiana and Akron for acquisition of the idle Crescent plant of the Rockwell Mfg. Co. in Leetonia.

Allen Heston, vice president of National Rubber, confirmed the fact today that negotiations are being made but explained that the deal has not been closed. "We will be disappointed, though, if it doesn't go through," he added.

Heston, a former Columbia resident, is with the firm's main office in Akron.

The Leetonia Crescent plant was abandoned by Rockwell Mfg. Co. of Pittsburgh following a prolonged strike by employees in 1953.

The moving of Rockwell equipment from the building this week led to rumors of the plants sale to another firm.

Adlai, Kefauver Again Attack Administration

'For America' Group Seeks To Deadlock Presidential Election

By The Associated Press

Adlai E. Stevenson bore down Friday on the issue of President Eisenhower's health while Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) raked the Republican administration for what he called its "methods of propaganda, procrastination and postponement."

While the rival candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination followed separate campaign trails in Minnesota and New Hampshire, Eisenhower's name was entered formally in the California and Wisconsin primaries.

From two quarters, came third party stirrings. Some leaders of a group called "For America" set in motion a plan designed to throw the November election into the House of Representatives. The object: election of a "conservative" to the White House.

States Rights Party

In South Carolina former Gov. James F. Byrnes indicated a new Southern states rights party may be formed if the Democrats and Republicans pledged "drastic action against the Southern states" in efforts to court minority voting groups. Byrnes said he wouldn't be a delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in August.

Stevenson told a Minneapolis audience he understands the condition under which Eisenhower agreed to a second term "is that the special arrangements that were made to accommodate him during his illness and convalescence must be made permanent."

Stevenson, who lost to Eisenhower in 1952, said that to delegatize the functions and authority of the presidency "on a scale we have not known in our time presents an issue that is not the personal one of the President's health, but the public matter of how the office of president can and should be conducted."

Lashes At Ike

Kefauver lashed out at the Eisenhower administration for what he termed its failure to meet the nation's needs at home and abroad.

"With its methods of propaganda, procrastination and postponement," he said at Hanover, N.H., "it has waited until its final year in office, and under the pressure of the coming election, before pretending to fulfill its campaign promises."

Kefauver's name was entered Friday in New Jersey's April 17 presidential preference primary. Martin J. Rafferty of Newark, on the Republican side, Thomas E. Stephens, a former appointment secretary to Eisenhower, flew to California with a paper giving the President's signed consent to entering that state's June 5 primary. A 70-member Eisenhower

Give 106 Pints Of Blood Here

Total Is 19 Short Of Goal Of 125

One hundred six pints of blood, 19 fewer than the goal, were collected by the Red Cross Bloodmobile during its visit here Friday, Miss Hazel Linn, executive director of the local Red Cross Chapter, reported today. The goal was 125 pints.

Miss Linn said 171 persons registered as donors. Of that number, 22 were rejected and the rest failed to appear because of illness or other reasons.

To date, the Red Cross Bloodmobile has paid nine visits to Salem, and has not yet reached its quota of 125 pints.

The local chapter is in arrears in its donations as compared to its usage. Miss Linn reports. Approximately 861 pints of blood were collected during the eight previous bloodmobile visits, while 945 pints were used by the two local hospitals and by 35 Salem patients admitted to district hospitals during the same period.

The Red Cross also revealed that the local chapter's prorated costs for the seven bloodmobile visits during 1955 totaled $1,216, including lab fees, cost of transportation of the unit, cost of shipping and care of the blood during storage and use of buildings during operations.

In addition, the chapter also paid out between $50 and $75 during each bloodmobile visit for feeding of unit members and donors.

FBI, Police Hunt Slick Robber Who Took $188,000 In Bank

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The FBI and police throughout the East worked today on the slimmest of clues which could lead them to the slick gunman who Friday robbed a drive-in bank of $188,000.

Aided by a companion, the principal bandit—described only as "looking like a construction worker"—kidnaped a woman teller, quizzed her all Thursday night for data on the bank's layout and used her key to enter the County Trust Co.

The second man did not enter the bank, and police believe he arranged for the getaway by car.

Mrs. Mary Kostolos, 32-year-old widow who was kidnapped from her home by both men, told police that the bandits, although asking countless questions, "seemed to know the answers before I gave them."

A newspaper reporter quoted Port Chester Police Chief Fred Ponty as saying police had been on guard the past year against a "strong tip" that a Westchester County bank was marked for robbery.

Ponty reportedly said detectives appeared daily at bank opening and closing times on the strength of the tip. Friday morning, he said, a detective arrived at the one-story bank only a minute after the hold-up was completed.

A policeman in a squad car looked on unconcerned as Asst. Treasurer J. Purdy Ungemack, under the pistol of the bandit, carried the loot to Mrs. Kostolos' car. The officer thought he was witnessing only a routine transfer of funds.

Ungemack was collared by the bandit as he reported for work. Also held as hostage during the robbery was Ernest Marino, the first employee to arrive.

The one bandit entered the bank with Mrs. Kostolos about 3:30 a.m.

Mrs. Kostolos said the man finally trussed her with wire, gagged and blindfolded her and put her in a closet.

She was freed by the bandit after the two male employees arrived. Mrs. Kostolos had part of the vault combination, and Ungemack the other. At gun point, they opened the big safe.

A spokesman said hopes of breaking through overland to the snowbound troops hinged on 31,000 pounds of special survival equipment being rushed by air from Japan. The equipment includes sleds, toboggans, snowshoes, mountain cooking sets and tents.

Thousands of tons of snow roared down the mountain slopes Thursday, burying at least 83 barracks. The South Korean army said 80 soldiers were known dead and at least 23 were missing and believed dead. Fifty-four were injured.

"No American troops are snow-bound or have been casualties," the U. S. Army said.

Police said seven Korean civilians were missing and three were injured in snowslides in the same general area. An estimated 160 homes were buried by the avalanches.

The South Korean troops are scattered in small units around the rugged, snowbound area. The Punchbowl, scene of some of the bitterest fighting of the Korean War, lies just south of the true zone and about 25 miles inland from the east coast.

"The entire avalanche area is soaked in tight by snow, fog and low clouds," a U. S. Air Force officer said earlier today. He said the big Flying Boxcars were "ready to go the minute the weather clears enough to fly."

Airliner Missed Wreck At Same Spot Last Week

Bits Of Globemaster Found; Most Aboard Were U.S. Airmen

LONDON (AP)—A U. S. Air Force Globemaster with 17 persons aboard crashed in the North Atlantic off Iceland Friday night at almost the spot the same plane narrowly escaped a disaster a week ago.

An Air Force spokesman here said radio messages from a weather ship reported finding the first bit of wreckage from the four-engine plane.

"We know now the Globemaster crashed into the sea," the spokesman said.

Bound For New York

The plane had left the Keflavik, Iceland, airport Friday, bound for New York.

An oxygen bottle, part of the plane's equipment was recovered and showed extensive traces of fire, the spokesman said. The bottle was picked up by the weather ship "Alpha," about 250 miles west of the Iceland coast.

That was near the position where the plane sent "May-Day" messages—extreme distress signals—shortly before midnight. The last message said three of the plane's four engines had failed and it was losing altitude rapidly.

One week ago the same C124 transport developed engine trouble in roughly the same position off Iceland and was "shepherded" in by air-sea rescue planes.

The U. S. weather ship, aided by Air Force planes continued the search for survivors.

Last Saturday the big craft landed safely at Keflavik after a grim, two-hour battle with falling engines over the Atlantic.

On that flight the lumbering four-engine transport was enroute from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Prestwick, Scotland, when two engines conked out.

Air-sea rescue planes from Keflavik rushed to the scene after the pilot said he was considering ditching at sea, but he managed to limp in without further mishap. Most of the 17 persons aboard were American airmen en route from Iceland to Goose Bay, Labrador, and then to New York.

The Air Force withheld the names of persons aboard, pending notification of next of kin. The name of the pilot in last week's brush with disaster also was withheld by the Air Force.

CANDIDATE

Statistics-wise, this little fellow is just "another average baby"—to everyone except his parents and relatives, that is. He weighed 6 1/2 lbs. at birth, is one of the 77,000 babies born in the U. S. each week, and is doing nicely, thank you! He is a candidate for a successful, long-term life.

But, how well he does in the next 67 years—whether he becomes a benefactor or a menace to society—depends on many factors: his heredity, his parents and home life, his health, his education—and of supreme importance is the matter of his religious training.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Practice Confident Living

One of the greatest of all human stories is how people with courage and positive thinking overcome the hazards of life.

You have probably never heard of a young man named Ike Skelton. But his story thrilled me, as it has so many down in Missouri, where he is admired and loved.

Dr. Peale

Not too many years ago, Ike Skelton was a happy-go-lucky, normal, healthy youngster in his freshman year at Wentworth Military Academy. Then, suddenly, he was stricken with infantile paralysis. The disease left his arms powerless to do anything but dangle helplessly by his sides. His legs were all right, and he could function otherwise, except that he couldn't move his arms.

Yet this boy came back to school from his illness with one burning ambition—he wanted to make the track team. He went out for track, and the coach told him, kindly, "Why, son, you can't run without your arms; you need them as much as your legs in running."

NEVERTHELESS, Ike Skelton kept at it. He trotted around the track all season, but he didn't make the team. The next year the story was the same. And, in his fourth year, although he kept trying, he couldn't make the grade competitively.

Finally, the last big track meet of his school career came, the meet with Kemper Academy. Wentworth's arch rival, and the boy was there, ready to run. He begged the coach to give him a chance, and the coach broke down and did. "Go out there and run," he said, "but promise me you won't be disappointed." Then the coach fastened his arms to his sides so they wouldn't get in his way and started him in the grilling two-mile race.

The crowd spotted this strange runner and had eyes for no one but Ike Skelton. They watched him eagerly, and, when the race was over, they surged down from the stands and lifted him enthusiastically upon their shoulders. There wasn't a dry eye in the crowd.

Had he won the race? Oh, no—he came in last. But he came in, and that's what's important about his story. He didn't win that race, but he is winning the more important race of life through his demonstration of an undefeatable spirit. He went from Wentworth to the University of Missouri, where he stood at the top of his class and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Sent to the University of Edinburgh in Scotland as an exchange student, he became one of the most popular men there.

NOW HE'S BACK HOME, making a brilliant record in Missouri University Law School. He's making progress physically too, able now to move one arm slightly from the elbow. He wrote me a very legible letter.

What has Ike Skelton got that enables him to overcome his terrible difficulties and live so confidently and successfully? The great psychiatrist, Karl Menninger, answers this question with his statement that men don't break down because they are defeated, but only because they think they are! Think confidently, live confidently, practice faith in God. Then to confident thinking add work and struggle. That is the formula for victorious living.

You can actually gain confidence by practicing it. The more you think and practice it, the more of it you will have.

Bolster your own confidence by the use of some great affirmation, such as this one from the Psalms: "Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident." You are a child of God; you have His powers in you. Believe in them, draw upon them, and live confidently.

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN!

A child's roller skates left on the stairs... a man deeply engrossed in his paper... one more step... fate closes in!

But it isn't fate. Just the careless, thoughtless preoccupation of humanity.

No religion can guarantee our safety from accidents like this one.

But the Christian Church offers man safety from greater perils. It teaches him the dangers inherent in his own impulses... it shows him his responsibility for the lives and faith of others... it stimulates his soul-deep yearning to know God... it assures him that life has eternal meaning through Jesus Christ.

Accidents will happen—but spiritual tragedy need not! For the eternal safety of all men, the careless, the thoughtless, the preoccupied: Christ died.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fabian Communists

The most far-reaching decision in the second half of the 20th century, if Russia's Khrushchev can make it stick, is the Communist party's rejection of violence.

Violence has been the sticking point between socialism and communism. The schism widened as the British Fabian movement gained momentum; it revealed how socialism could be made a respectable parliamentary movement, instead of a revolutionary plot.

But in the meantime, Russian communism gained momentum as a revolutionary movement directed against the world. It renounced socialists in every country as "capitalist lackeys."

It preached that violence and bloodshed were inevitable, thereby terrifying its intended victims into forming united fronts.

Now comes the historic shift of strategy announced by Khrushchev in his speech to the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party—the statement that party objectives can be reached without resort to violence—the promise of cooperation with socialists—the promise of peace.

War no longer is inevitable, explains the man who is being thought of as the new successor to the ideological leadership of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. Communism now can adopt its own version of British Fabianism.

It can quit manning the barricades of revolution and concentrate on parliamentary maneuvers.

War between the members of the Communist conspiracy and the conspiracy's intended victims is not inevitable. It is not necessary. The capitalist nations will destroy themselves, promises Khrushchev. The proletariat is strong enough to take them over from the inside as they weaken and falter.

They will quarrel among themselves. They will weaken each other. Meanwhile, the Soviet Union should adopt a bedside manner toward its dying neighbors.

This now is the party line according to Khrushchev.

If he can make it stick, there will be no more cold war. There will be, instead, cold peace—the kind that exists between a vulture and its prey.

Final Gun

It is hard to believe the regular 1955-1956 basketball season has run out, except for tournament play. Basketball moves so fast in its streamlined version that it makes the months between the end of football and the beginning of baseball seem like a ride on a roller coaster.

It is not surprising any more that basketball is the country's No. 1 spectator sport, with its thousands of contests, and at the same time the No. 1 participant sport, with hundreds of thousands of schoolboys and even schoolgirls potting away relentlessly at James Naismith's improved peach baskets day in and day out whenever 10 or more like-minded juveniles happen to be assembled in a gymnasium.

It is a game for the young and the limber, but no other game ever was invented that could be played enjoyably at so many levels of skill by so many players. At the close of another season, it is safe to guess that no other game ever was invented that could raise the blood pressure of so many spectators either.

The spectators, have varying skill, but with one thing in common. All know more about refereeing than the fellows in striped shirt and harried expressions who blows whistles and makes several hundred snap decisions in each contest. Next to James Naismith, himself, the referees have made the greatest contribution to basketball. Without them, here would be chaos. With them, the chaos is modified confusion.

Youth In Motion

Daytona Beach learned about a problem last weekend it didn't see coming—the potential riot that slumbers in a crowd of youthful drag-race fans.

When the Florida stock-car racing capital had finished learning its lesson, it had been forced to ask the National Guard for help, expose its own police force to danger and sustain a substantial loss in property damage. All this happened because police stopped two young men who were planning a drag-race on a Daytona Beach street. Before the ensuing riot was over, between three and five thousand young persons had run berserk. Daytona Beach had learned about a problem it didn't know it had.

Other cities can profit by its lesson. They don't have Daytona Beach's nearby racing course on water-packed sand, but they all have a quota of drag-racers with no place to race. They all have potential trouble from these high-spirited children of the automobile era whose sport has been orphaned by neglect.

Salem's Future

(An Editorial)

More and more industries are being attracted to northern Ohio—one of the most envied spots in the nation today.

Salem is fortunate that its geographic location puts it within the sphere of influence in this respect. That is why Salem should put its best foot forward at all times.

The establishment of factories such as that to be built by the Chevrolet Division of General Motors just fifteen miles north of Salem along the Ohio Turnpike can mean much to Salem's future growth. It can well mean a residential expansion to the north.

This expansion, and other developments, if done systematically, will brighten the city's future in many ways.

But it takes vision, and cooperation.

The cooperation must come from the community's civic leaders, elected officials, township leaders and county authorities. Working together, as they have shown the ability to do in the past, much can be accomplished. Coordinated efforts will pay dividends that will benefit everyone—you, your neighbor, the merchant, the professional man, our churches and schools.

Fortunately, Salem has not been dragging her feet. Foresighted leaders, with the public's approval of tax revenues, have brought Salem out of a state of complacency to have, or about to have:

- 1—A 660-million gallon surface water reservoir near East Cold Run.
- 2—Adequate expansion of the sewage treatment facilities, including an enlargement of the disposal plant.
- 3—A master highway traffic plan.
- 4—A new senior high school.

These are but a few of the necessary attributes of a growing Salem, but these are the essential ones.

Not only does Salem have the ability to expand, but it possesses a diversity of resources to attract new industries in a mushrooming Ohio industrial and marketing area.

The confidence that others share in this district should be met with redoubled efforts on the part of everyone concerned here at home. It requires alertness, aggressiveness and cooperation.

Salem's future is indeed bright.

So They Say

Even if we are arrested every day, let nobody pull you so low as to hate them. — Rev. Martin Luther King, indicted Negro leader, on the Montgomery (Ala.) Negro bus boycott.

You boys better saddle your horses and get on your spurs if you want to keep up with Johnson on the flag, mother and corruption. — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democratic leader, warning reporters how he'll tackle a possible lobbying probe.

I hope that the world soon can find a leadership that will be able to sway the people to the idea that all war is wrong. War is a senseless sort of activity. — Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, on his 71st birthday.

Good For The Heart

By EUGENE CARR

Due, no doubt, to President Eisenhower's attack a few months ago, we have been literally deluged in recent months with advice and information on heart trouble. Almost every day we have occasion to read about a new study on the subject, or listen to an up-to-date opinion from an authority.

This is all to the good, for there is no question that heart trouble has become a major threat to man's well being, and the more we know about it, the more we hear it discussed and analyzed, the better prepared we will be to cope with it when it comes, or avoid it altogether.

There was a time when heart disease was identified for the most part with older people, the person whose natural life was about spent. Doctors used to say that such a person died because his heart gave out—"heart failure", it was called.

But, heart trouble today is no respecter of age or sex or occupation. It strikes young and old alike, women as well as men, and is common to factory worker, store clerk, housewife, and business executive.

Today, a perfectly healthy heart is subject to attack with little or no warning. The experts say this is due to our current mode of living, the speed we travel, the pace of the business day, the fact we play as hard as we work, the intensity with which we approach almost everything we do. Psychologists tell us there is also a factor of insecurity in all this, that the average person seems to sense an impending disaster or danger to himself and those for whom he is responsible.

Perhaps this is true. Without question, life is more complicated than in days gone by. But, there are also more conveniences and comforts in present day living, and no one does the hard, physical labor that once took its daily toll of his strength. What, then, is the answer? Where do we look for relief from the worry, pressure, and tension that bring on so many of today's heart attacks?

The specialist invariably recommends three things — sufficient rest, proper diet, and mild exercise. But, physical rest is of little use without peace of mind, diet is of no value unless accompanied by a sense of well being, and exercise is worthless if pressure and tension remain.

A heart attack, or any other serious illness, should serve as a warning that the time has come

THE IMPORTANCE OF INDUSTRY TO community development is vividly illustrated by these two views of the modern Chevrolet Motor Division assembly plant near Van Nuys, Calif. The top picture was taken early in 1949, less than a year after the plant was dedicated. Four years later, about the same time of year in 1953, as shown by the lower picture, thousands of homes have been built on acreage that was undeveloped real estate when the plant was built.

Recent announcement here that Chevrolet will build a $100-million assembly plant 15 miles north of Salem in Lordstown Township might well mean an accelerated residential expansion of Salem to the north.

Business Answers

NEW YORK (AP)—Business should have the answer to a number of its uncertainties before Easter.

Consumers may well pick March to show their hands in several ways:

1. With an early Easter, the blustery month of March will span the entire pre-Easter sales drive by the merchants.

2. If the month goes out like a lamb, the auto industry may get its first test of how healthy the hoped-for spring pickup in car buying will be.

3. The home building industry, also counting on spring to awaken the urge to own your own home, may find who is right: the one who says a revival in building is due, or the one who says mortgage money will stay tight and buyers chary.

What business will be watching is how strong a tonic March will supply. A seasonal pick-up is expected — the usual quickening of the economy through gains in construction, farming and seasonal industries. The question that this month may have the answer for is:

The consumer isn't the only one who will be showing his hand. Congress has some decisions to make this month. Businessmen are resigned to its continuing for another year the 52 per cent income tax rate on corporations and for most of the excise taxes on some consumer goods like autos.

Business In Election Year

By RAYMOND MOLEY

"Uncertainty" is a word which used to describe the condition of business in a presidential election year. People, it was assumed, would hesitate to make capital commitments, and things would swing to and fro until after the election.

But like many assumptions, this was not a true description of the facts. The Business Bulletin of the Cleveland Trust Company, for a good many years a respected chronicle of business trends, has recently published a composite chart of business trends in election years since 1900 which certainly fails to bear out the assumption of uncertainty. It says:

"Judging from the evidence of history, business activity as a rule does not seem to have been affected very much by the political campaigns. There has been no general pattern for business trends in election years, except that in the past they have usually been in accordance with the particular stage in the business cycle at the time."

The bulletin then shows a chart demonstrating that the fluctuations in the composite picture have been small. This chart shows that from January to July the curve has declined 3.3 per cent. Then it has advanced to the end of the year, and for December it has risen 4.7 per cent above July and 1.4 per cent above the preceding January. "In eight of those election years," the bulletin continues, "business activity was higher at the end of the year than at the beginning, and in six years it was lower. For nine years the monthly average was above the long-term trend."

This bulletin of the Cleveland Trust Company recalls a famous edition of the same publication written by the late Col. Leonard Ayres. The date of that edition was Oct. 15, 1924, when President Coolidge, John W. Davis, and Robert M. LaFollette were running. Ayres offered an analysis of business conditions under the two parties which was interpreted at the time to be highly, not to say surprisingly, flattering to the Democratic party. Looking back over 40 years of business conditions in the business index of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Ayres' own "blast furnace index," he found what he described as follows:

In 24 years of the Republicans, 55 per cent of the months were months of prosperity and 45 per cent were months of depression. In 16 years of the Democrats, 55 per cent were those of prosperity and 45 of depression. There was not, he said, half of 1 per cent difference. One party, he said, saw to it that the dinner pail was just as full as did the other party. He added, "There seems little reason to believe the record for the immediate future will differ markedly from that."

The risk that Ayres ran in predicting the immediate future was perfectly safe, because no one in his right mind, including those people who were trying to keep up the semblance of a fight in Democratic headquarters in New York, believed that Davis had a ghost of a chance to win.

Since it was such a wholly unorthodox view of business conditions under the two parties, this statement of an eminent business analyst crated quite a sensation. The Ayres analysis was seriously questioned, however, because it counted only months in which business was above normal and those in which it was below. It did not attempt to take into consideration how much above or below they were. And the Democratic showing was materially helped by the boom of the years during the first World War.

The U. S. News and World Report for Feb. 24, 1956, shows a summary of what the output of industry and the stock market did in the years after the presidential elections from 1900 to 1952 inclusive. It shows that in the year following six Republican victories the output of industry went up. In one, 1921, it went down. In six of the years after Republican victories the stock market went up. In nine, 1921, it went down. In three years following Democratic victories the output of industry went down. In three it went up. In one there was no change. In five of the years after Democratic victories the stock market went down. In two it went up.

Since the exceptional year for the Republican party was 1921, it is possible to say that according to past history a Republican victory has been better for business, following the two indices mentioned, than has a Democratic victory. But the evidence also shows that during the year of the election conditions have been about what they would have been without an election.

Thought For Today

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Ike Marches On

Old soldiers never die. They just let their heart specialists fade away. Ike scrapped the Durante song "Didja ever have a feelin' ya wanted to go and still have a feelin' ya wanted to stay" in favor of "I Can't Say No." A general who crossed the English Channel in time of war against terrific odds and facing a loss of thousands of lives couldn't be influenced by the job of crossing the Potomac at the risk of a personal physical setback. How could you think that a tough soldier who never quit facing Madman Hitler would worry over a "Go Slow" sign?

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that Ike feels able to run has put millions of Democrats in bed. (They say Stevenson showed little pulse for hours.) Four years ago all Ike had was popularity and prestige. This time he will have sentiment, sympathy and solicitude on his side. He would be easier to beat in perfect health.

Millions who feel a little out of shape will vote for him, as will most people who know what six months of doctors' bills mean to a man. There was never much chance he would quit. The question was whether it would be dangerous, and too many men had died under his command without asking an "out" on that.

The President would love a life of ease on the farm, but he is no man to milk cows in a world crisis.

WE WOULDN'T BE bowled over to see Dr. Paul White wind up on the ticket as Secretary of Hearts. The doctor had a big part in Ike's decision. No heart specialist ever made a better nominating speech in reading a cardiogram. Dr. White could have ghost-written Ike's announcement with a paraphrase of some famous lines:

My tee shot startles many men,
My putting makes 'em pay.
My strength is as the strength of ten
Because my heart's okay.

TO PATTERN AFTER a famous story, the President could have put it like this if modesty was not a top characteristic: "I spent my life in the army carrying out any job assigned to me. I accepted the top command in the toughest war in history, it fell on me to make the channel crossings against the heaviest odds, it was my task to direct the sweep across Europe. On top of that I fell for golf at sixty, at, hamburgers with raw onions on the ninth hole and read Harry Truman's memoirs. And just because I had a heart attack could I say, 'I GOT TROUBLES!' "

THE DEMOCRATS will now face the problem of whether to challenge electric cardiograms, find a flaw in Dr. White or blast the President for not being intimidated by a recent illness. There may be candidates who will claim Dr. White and Dr. Snyder are really Dixon & Yates with stethoscopes, a harpoon and a bedside manner.

WE JUST HEARD of a tourist who cancelled his reservation in a Miami Beach hotel because another one had come out in new colors. "Newsstands to Be Cleared of Obscene Magazine" — headline . . . Wanna bet?

Bob Stevens, former Secretary of the Army, has been chosen a director of General Electric. . . . Perhaps this was the "general" Joe McCarthy was trying to get him to name during those hearings.

Overheard in Washington: "Know what's really wrong with Dulles?" "No, what is it?" "He needs bumpers front and rear."

Few musical play stars in history held a greater grip for so many years as Elsie Janis. . . . At 14 she was playing "The Belle of New York" in a road company, and a year or two later was a Broadway sensation in "The Vanderbilt Cup." For years nobody came even closer as a box-office attraction. . . . Most mimics are amateurs compared with Elsie, who did it by sheer artistry. . . . And she was never a "mugger."

Girl Scout Week Observance Planned Here March 11-17

Salem Girl Scouts will join in the celebration of the 44th birthday of Girl Scouting during Girl Scout Week March 11-17. "Believe, Belong, Build," is the theme of the week.

Plans for the observance were discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Salem Council of Girl Scouts Thursday morning in the Memorial Building. Mrs. Joseph Greenwood presided.

A special girl scout service will be held Sunday, March 11 at 3 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. Rev. C. C. Davis, pastor of the Methodist Church, will preside. The service is sponsored by the Salem Ministerial Association.

Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will give the prayer, and Rev. John Bauman, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, will read the scripture. The sermon will be delivered to Rev. Harold Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church.

The combined service will enable the scouts to attend morning services in their respective churches and yet worship together as girl scouts. The scouts will enter the church and be seated in troops. Senior and Intermediate Juliette Low girls will serve as ushers. Scouts are requested to attend in uniform. Leaders and other adult members of the council will also attend the service. Guests are welcome.

Mrs. F. S. Barckhoff reported that the 19 Brownie Troops will be divided into five groups for their birthday celebrations. The schedule is: Sunday, March 11, 10 a.m., St. Paul's Auditorium, Troops 14, 21, 38 with Margaret Walker, the chairman.

The celebration for the Intermediate will be held March 24 at 1 p.m. in the Memorial Building. Mrs. Aubrey Hayes reported. The session will open with a smorgasbord. Each troop will plan enough food for its own members. All who attend are to take their own table service and rolls.

A court of awards and Juliette Low friendship ceremony will follow the meal.

The committee recommended that no troops be at camp during the week of the sequentennial celebration. There will be a two-day holiday camp for all Brownies, and a four-day camp period for fifth, sixth and seventh graders.

Last Red Fugitive Ready To Surrender

NEW YORK (AP)—The last of the bail-jumping Communist fugitives is reported ready to surrender.

A letter to the press—purportedly written by Henry Winston—announced he will surrender Monday at the U.S. marshal's office.

Winston, 45, who was organizational secretary of the Communist party, is under sentence to five years in prison.

Gilbert Green, 49, another of the fugitive Reds, surrendered last Monday after mailing a similar letter. He also was under a five-year sentence.

Winston, Green and nine other top American Communist leaders were sentenced to prison terms for conspiracy to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence. Four of the 11 fled after losing appeals.

The Winston letter, postmarked in New York Thursday and delivered Thursday night, said:

"The charge of conspiracy against me was as false as the conspiracy charges against Negro leaders in Montgomery, Ala."

The letter, like Green's, attributed the decision to surrender to what was described as a more amicable political atmosphere in the country. It said: "McCarthyism has been set back on its heels. The future for our people looks brighter."

trustees was in contempt. He ruled that they "acted in good faith" in barring Miss Lucy after the riots. He directed, however, that she be returned to school by Monday.

Within hours after the hearing, the trustees expelled Miss Lucy. They declared that no university could permit a student to make such conspiracy charges and remain undisciplined. The next move to test the validity of the trustees' action is now up to Miss Lucy and her attorneys.

Miss Lucy presently is in New York City. She said she planned to return to Alabama next week to renew her fight to re-enter the university.

The two Watts men and Thompson are under orders to appear Monday in City Court in Tuscaloosa to answer charges of disorderly conduct growing out of the riots. Chambliss was questioned briefly but was never arrested.

Narcotics Raid At University Nabs 7

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Six Louisville teen-agers and a 21-year-old Perry Countian are free today under $1,000 bond each on charges following a raid at the University of Kentucky.

Two other Louisvillians sought after the raid Thursday had not been taken into custody today.

The raid, aimed at narcotics traffic and theft activity, came less than a month after an undercover agent enrolled at the university and began rooming with one of the five UK freshmen involved.

University President H. L. Donovan said the raid rid the university of "juvenile gangsters" who sought "sanctuary" at the school. He said UK co-operated in the investigation rather than taking the "easy way out" of putting the students out of school.

An agent said "less than a pound" of marijuana was involved in the case. None was seized.

Continued to March 6 in police court were charges of possessing barbiturates against Edward M. Grigsby, 21, of Bulan, the only non-Louisvillian, and Charles Neil Huffman, 18.

Another student was held to the grand jury in Juvenile Court on charges of grand larceny.

Continued to March 9 in police court were the cases of William Robinson, 18, and Wes Bratcher, 19, charged with grand larceny; and the non-students, Terry Dupont, 18, and Mitchell Bishop, 18, charged with illegally occupying UK dormitories.

County Teachers' Pay Schedule Discussed

A standard salary schedule for Columbiana County rural school system teachers was discussed by County Supt. James L. McBride and district superintendents Thursday afternoon at Elkton School.

The schedule means increases of $400, $500 and $600, depending on training, and is mandatory in October under the new State Foundation Fund law, McBride said. He hopes to be able to recommend the new schedule to the district boards of education for adoption this Spring.

The county's present schedule now starts at a minimum of $2,000 for a teacher with two years' training. Under the new law, the minimum will be $2,600. The present minimums in other classifications by the required salary in parenthesis:

Three - year training, $2,200 ($2,800); four-year training, $2,600 ($3,000); five-year, $2,700 ($3,200), and master's degree $2,800 ($3,400).

McBride said the group also discussed the testing programs in the county school, questioning why our seniors haven't been rating high in the Senior Scholarship Test.

hower delegate slate now is being chosen.

In Wisconsin, Gov. Walter J. Kohler Jr. headed a list of 30 Eisenhower delegate candidates who formally filed for the April 3 primary there. A few minutes earlier, John Chappel, an Ashland publisher, filed a full slate of delegates in his own name as favorite son. He said the slate is made up of persons supporting Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.).

Knowland had told his Wisconsin supporters last Saturday he wouldn't permit his name to be listed on the primary ballot if Eisenhower was a candidate. Consent of the candidate is required in Wisconsin.

The movement by some "For America" leaders apparently stems from unhappiness with the possible Democratic and Republican presidential candidates now in view. Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers (Ret.), the group's national director, said the aim is to win election of enough independent electors to prevent either major party from getting an electoral college majority.

Under those circumstances, Fellers said in Washington, the election would go to the House where each state would have one vote. This, he said, could bring House election of a conservative to the presidency.

Fellers said "we do not" regard Eisenhower as a conservative. In Charleston, S.C., Gen. Mark Clark (Ret.) said it smelled to him like a "stop Ike" movement and he wanted no connection with it. Clark has been listed as a member of For America's policy committee. In Dallas, H. Dan Smoot, a For America co-chairman, said the new plan was "not necessarily a stop-Ike" drive.

Although Hitler had to wear glasses to read ordinary print, he refused to wear them in public.

Alabama Clinches SEC Title; Dons Win 49th Straight Game

Kentucky's Long Reign Is Ended

Dartmouth Moves Ahead In Ivy League

By The Associated Press

Alabama, the new Southeastern Conference basketball champion, was assured of an NCAA tournament berth today. Dartmouth and UCLA were just a step away from clinching their conference titles and San Francisco, like the caissons, continued to keep rolling along.

The Crimson Tide clinched its first SEC crown in 22 years Friday night by defeating Auburn 93-82.

The triumph ended mighty Kentucky's league reign. Except for 1933, the season they were suspended by the NCAA and SEC, the Wildcats had finished on top every year since 1944.

Dartmouth moved to a 9-3 Ivy League mark by trouncing Harvard 86-71 to move a game and a half ahead of Columbia.

UCLA, with Willie (The Whale) Naulls scoring 39 points for a school mark, edged California 85-80 to clinch at least a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference championship. The victory was UCLA's 14th straight.

And top-ranked San Francisco, the NCAA champs, extended their unbeaten string to 49 games by drubbing Pepperdine 68-40.

Meanwhile, there was plenty of action on the Southern and Atlantic Coast Conference tournament fronts.

In the Southern Conference, West Virginia, led by Hot Rod Hundley's 42 points, tripped Furman 77-74 and Richmond beat Washington and Lee 65-56. The winners meet tonight for the title and an automatic NCAA spot.

At Raleigh, N.C. North Carolina State and Wake Forest survived the ACC semifinals. State, No. 5 in the Associated Press poll, dumped Duke 91-79 and Wake Forest defeated North Carolina 77-56.

In other games, Kansas beat Colorado 54-44 to keep alive its Big Seven title hopes. Cornell tripped Penn 83-78 and Villanova downed St. Bonaventure 72-54.

Coeds Work On Routine For Buckeye Games

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A group of Ohio State University co-eds is working on a routine that may add to the flavor of intermission programs at Buckeye basketball and football games next season.

Under the direction of Miss Majja Moore, 18, a freshman from Dayton, a 30-girl precision team has been working out for the past month. If the unit, which has an Air Force ROTC Sergeant as drill adviser, "passes" in an audition before the athletic department, uniforms will be furnished, Miss Moore said.

The unit is scheduled to make its first public appearance on "Corps Day" during the university's May Week observance.

- 8 New Waterford Bank, 2,702.
- 9 Clipper Five, Columbiana, 2,700.
- 10 Zimmerman Rockets, 2,673.

The high team scores were 979, made by Miller's Garage and 978 by the Tic-Tacks.

In the Booster Division, New Waterford Bank was high scorer with 2,702, followed by Ten Pin Missey of Salem, 2,658.

The high single game was 247 by Shirley Crum of East Palestine. Anna DeJane of Salem rolled a 200, and also scored 527 in her team event. Betty Carter of Salem rolled 500 in the team event.

Play will continue today and Sunday and will continue next Saturday and Sunday.

Indiana Sophomore Breaks Jump Record

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Greg Bell, Indiana University sophomore, started the record breaking early Friday night when he shattered the Big Ten broad jump mark by soaring 24 feet, 11 inches in preliminaries of the Western Conference indoor track and field meet.

Bell, 25-year-old ex-serviceman from Terre Haute, Ind., will have three more chances to better his own record in this afternoon's finals.

The broad shouldered Negro topped the former conference distance of 24-7 by Purdue's Jewell Daily in 1949 with his fourth and final preliminary try.

Michigan, favored to repeat its team championship of last year, placed 10 men in the prelims as did Indiana, a threat because of team depth. Other qualifying totals included:

Iowa 8, Illinois 4, Michigan State and Ohio State 3, Wisconsin and Northwestern 2, Minnesota and Purdue 0.

Costa Decisions Baby Vasquez

Squeezes Out Split, Controversial Win

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Carmelo (Chubby) Costa today had a lucky, narrow victory over Baby Vasquez to his credit and a March 30th date in Madison Square Garden with France's Cherif Hamia.

The 21-year-old, second-ranking featherweight contender, had to come from 'way behind to squeeze out a controversial split, 10-round decision over the peppery Mexican lightweight king in the Garden Friday night.

The slim crowd of about 3,000 greeted the verdict with some loud booing which sounded like music to the downcast loser's ears. Only last Dec. 23, Vasquez was the recipient of jeers from the Garden fans for an inept, losing performance against lightweight contender Frankie Ryff.

"I was too tight that night," said Vasquez. "It was my first in the Garden and I was nervous and couldn't get started. Tonight I thought I won by a good margin. I got off good and made the fight all the way. He kept backing up. I hit him a couple of good shots, too. I'd like a return fight."

"I won but not by any 6-3 score," said the frank victor. "It was very close. He was confusing with his awkward style."

A ringside poll showed eight writers had Vasquez in front with three favoring Costa.

Referee Al Berl (5-4-1) and Judge Jack Gordon (6-3-1) voted for Costa while Judge Joe Vaccarelli scored for Vasquez. Vaccarelli had it even in rounds, 5-5, but Vasquez ahead on points 6-5.

The AP card had it even 5-5 in rounds but leaned to the Mexican on his heavier punching in the second and fifth.

Vasquez, a 4-1 underdog, weighed 133 to Costa's 131.

Hamia is the French featherweight champion who knocked out Robert Cohen, France's world bantamweight king in Paris last December.

Merkle, Famed For Boner, Dies At 67

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fred Merkle, 67, who was remembered more for one boner play than for all the good ones he made in 19 years of major league baseball, died at his home Friday.

Apparently in good health, he went shopping at the neighborhood grocery Thursday and played bridge—one of his hobbies—that night.

Merkle died in bed of natural causes, said Mark W. Curry Jr. of Baggett - McIntosh funeral directors.

The play that brought him fame cost the New York Giants the 1908 National League pennant. In an important game late in September Merkle neglected to go from first to second base on a hit that apparently drove in the winning run from third.

Johnny Evers, Chicago Cubs second baseman, tagged second to force out Merkle. The game was thrown out, Chicago and New York tied for the league championship, and Chicago won the playoff.

Merkle played in the major leagues from 1907 to 1926.

Santa Anita Race Today Worth Record $158,800

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Ten years ago Santa Anita set the pattern for $100,000 added purses for 3-year-olds and today the track staged the richest of its derby series.

Today's mile and one-eighth feature was worth a gross purse of $158,800, based on the second all-time high of 18 colts who were formally entered.

Included were Terrang and Like Magic, the entry of Rex C. Ellsworth, who won both the Santa Anita and Kentucky derbies last year with another California colt, the now famed Swaps.

Ellsworth's entry figured to be the Luke-warm betting favorite in what shaped up as a wide open race.

Minoso Wants Pants To Cover Skinny Legs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Minnie Minoso, the Chicago White Sox No. 1 comic, was up to his old tricks Friday, his first full day in the Sox training camp.

Minnie felt his uniform didn't fit and he immediately told equipment man Sharkey Colledge.

"You bet 'round Sox 65 years," Minnie said to Sharkey. "These not fit right, too short. I look like semi-pro."

Connie Johnson, the Sox' lanky right-hander stepped in to tell Minoso "You get 'em any smaller, they'll be too tight."

"I don't want smaller," said Minnie, "just longer. My legs too skinny. Want pants to cover them."

Illinois, Iowa To Play For Big 10 Crown

By The Associated Press

Illinois and Iowa should settle the Big Ten basketball championship at Iowa City today but the possibility exists that the winner might get tripped up Monday night.

Following their nationally televised clash today (2 p.m. CST-CBS) the two collegiate powers close the Western Conference campaign Monday night.

Iowa will be host to Indiana and Illinois goes to Northwestern.

The winner of today's big game could possibly let down and drop Monday night's encounter and, presuming today's loser wins Monday night, the race could end in a tie. Each has a 11-1 conference record. The Illini are ranked No. 2 nationally, the Hawkeyes No. 10.

Iowa dropped its finale to Michigan last year after clinching the conference title. The Hoosiers are dangerous enough to pull a similar upset.

Illinois has had things its way too long against Northwestern. A Harry Combes coached team has never lost to Northwestern and Combes has ben at Illinois since 1947.

Other Big Ten games tonight find Northwestern (0-12) at Wisconsin (3-10); Purdue (8-5) at Indiana (6-8); Minnesota (4-8) at Michigan (4-8) and Michigan State (6-6) at Ohio State (8-4).

Aside from the Indiana-Iowa and Illinois-Northwestern engagements Monday, conference teams end the season with Michigan State at Michigan and Ohio State at Minnesota.

OSU Takes 15-Point Lead In Swimming

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Ohio State's defending champions had a 15-point lead over second-place Michigan today at the half way mark in the 46th annual Big Ten swimming championships.

Ohio State took the lead from Indiana by sweeping the first three places in the one-meter diving Friday night and moved well ahead by winning the 400-yard freestyle relay, the night's final event.

Mike Delaney of Michigan turned in the meet's first record performance in winning the 200-yard butterfly in 2:15.0, shaving one tenth from the mark set by teammate Burwell Jones last year.

The last seven events are scheduled tonight. Team scores at half-way point: Ohio State 45; Michigan 30; Iowa 24; Indiana 24; Michigan State 21; Illinois 14; Northwestern 12; Purdue 6; Minnesota 0; Wisconsin 0.

New York Knicks Falter; May Lose Playoff Berth

By The Associated Press

Time was running out on the New York Knickerbockers today. The Knicks, rated among the best in the league before the season got underway, were 2½ games out of a playoff spot with just seven games to go in the National Basketball Assn. season.

The Knicks dropped a 104-97 decision to the Fort Wayne Pistons Friday night in Boston to enable the idle Syracuse Nationals to gain another half-game in the eastern division. The Nats are in third place, the last playoff spot.

In the other half of the double-header, the Boston Celtics turned back the Minneapolis Lakers 119-113.

AAU Acts To Ban Santee

Seeks To Keep Him From Tonight's Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union had its turn in court today in its running feud with star miler Wes Santee while other entries in tonight's Columbian Mile in the Knights of Columbus games watched anxiously from the sidelines.

Attorneys for the AAU went before the appellate division of the New York State Supreme Court in an effort to bar Santee from the Madison Square Garden meet. They asked the court to set aside a temporary injunction blocking the enforcement of its lifetime suspension of Santee.

The injunction was granted Thursday. His Atty. Charles P. Grimes obtained the writ from Justice James B. McNally.

That's how it stood when Jay-Ehret Mahoney, AAU attorney, brought his appeal to the appellate division.

"I'll move for a cross-motion to make the suspension of the injunction even stronger," roared Grimes when he heard of the AAU's action "I'll ask the appellate division to clarify the order by issuing an injunction requiring the AAU to inform every athlete that Santee is not under suspension and that they may run against him without injuring their amateur standings in any way."

The other mile entries—including Fred Dwyer East Orange N. J. Ron Delany, Villanova; Jim Bailey, Oregon; George King, New York University, and Jim Doulin, Manhattan—merely were hoping something definite would be decided by posttime.

Despite the fact that Justice McNally said "the other boys are protected" by his order, they remember all too well the ominous warning of AAU chief Dan Ferris. He warned a week ago that any athlete competing against Santee would lose his amateur standing injunction or not.

It is pertinent to note that while the AAU may be defeated in New York, the state court's action would not be binding on the International Olympic Committee or the International Amateur Athletic Federation. American Avery Brundage is president of the IOC. He was not available for comment.

Industrial Softball Plans Being Drafted

Lee Burton, superintendent of parks and recreation, reports much progress in mapping a softball program for local industries this year. The superintendent and Dave Briskin, local softball league president, have contacted 10 industries.

The Eljer Co., last year's champs will field a team, as will Electric Furnace, Bliss, Mullins and Demings. Bliss and Demings will field one or two teams each, depending on the interest shown in the sport.

Mullins, a newcomer to the league this year, also will field one team, and possibly two.

Burton has assumed his duties as Columbiana County softball commissioner, following his appointment by the district commissioner.

Moon To Get Crack At Cards' Leadoff Slot

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Wally Moon will get a crack at the lead-off position. St. Louis Cardinal manager Fred Hutchinson, says, in a move to give Stan Musial some one to bring home.

Newton Falls, Struthers Win 'A' Sectionals

Newton Falls and Struthers captured berths in the Kent district playoffs last night at the South Fieldhouse as Newton Falls edged Hubbard in a tight one 63-60 and Struthers upset Youngstown Rayen 59-49.

Newton Falls was the leader in the opening frame 18-13, but Hubbard cut the lead at the intermission to 30-28. In the third period Hubbard continued to press their opponents and at the end of three periods the teams were tied up 45-45.

Hubbard's attack failed in the final period however, as Newton Falls, sparked by Sophomore Roger Rogos, moved into the lead and outlasted Hubbard until the final game as they won 63-60.

Pint-sized Rogos set the pace for the victorious Newton Falls five as he dropped in 20 points on 9 field goals and 2 fouls.

In the second game the favored Rayen Tigers went down to defeat at the hands of the Struthers Wildcats 59-49. The two teams battled evenly in the first three periods, but Struthers went into the lead in the final period and won the game 59-49.

Sharp-shooter Harold Ondra was the leader in the Wildcat scoring parade with 16 markers and the set-up artist Bob McCollum followed with 13. All-city selection Billy Davis and Jerry Luchanski led the way for the Rayenites with 13 each and Sam Fletcher accounted for 11 Rayen points.

Newton Falls and Struthers will now move on to the playoffs in Kent.

Needles Heads List Of 169 Derby Eligibles

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Needles, an early-budding star from Florida, headed 169 nominees for the 82nd Kentucky Derby announced today by Churchill Downs.

The eligible list is the fourth largest in history for the spring classic, which will be run this year on May 5, the traditional first Saturday in May. The record number was 196 in 1928.

As usual, the three-year-olds will be asked to go 1¼ miles, a rugged run for horses so young. Churchill Downs will add $125,000 to the money put by up owners to nominate, enter and start their hopefuls.

A record purse was just about assured by the $16,900 picked up via nominations at $100 per horse. A $250 fee is charged to enter and another $1,250 to start.

Herb Score Shows More Speed, Better Control

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Herb Score, the Cleveland Indians' 22-year-old strikeout artist, showed more speed and control Friday than he did last year when he set a new major league strikeout record for a rookie.

"I warmed him up all last year and he never once threw that hard," said Bill Lobe, the bullpen coach. "He is gettin' the ball over better, too."

Manager Al Lopez said Score's extra weight would make him stronger this season. He tipped the scales at 182 last season and is now up to 188.

CIO came roaring back in the third period and surprised Logues 25-12. Going into the final period Logues had a 3 point deficit to overcome. Logues staged a rally but the attempt fell short by 1 point and CIO captured the win 69-68.

Indoor Shot Record May Fall Today

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A brawny Kansas boy once had promising future in football will get three cracks at the American shot put record today—and could come mighty close to breaking it.

Bill Neider, a 6-foot-5, 220-pound senior at the University of Kansas, put the shot 59 feet 9¼ inches in preliminaries of the Big Seven track and field meet Friday night. That set a new collegiate indoor mark and goes into the books as the second best indoor shot put in history.

The only better indoor mark on record is Parry O'Brien's heave of 61 feet 5¼ inches in the national AAU championships two weeks ago.

Neider, who is a member of the Big Seven track and field team, will compete in the shot put final today.

Probe Of Neff's Activities Ends

Hearing Brings Out Conflicting Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate inquiry into activities of oil lawyer-lobbyist John M. Neff wound up today with sharpened conflict over whether Neff twice went to an Iowa Republican official with offers of campaign money for Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the special investigating committee announced the end of public hearings.

George said he considered the inquiry had been a "full, fair and complete" one, and predicted the committee would have its report ready by the deadline, March 10.

George said also he was "satisfied we have received all the facts in the matter we were empowered to inquire into." This was specifically a $2,500 campaign contribution that Neff tried to give Sen. Case (R-SD) during the Senate's gas bill fight.

The committee went into other activities by Neff, however, on grounds it should determine whether the Case incident was part of a pattern.

In the windup session, the committee briefly recalled Elmer Patman, Austin, Tex., attorney for Superior Oil Co., as a witness. It was Patman who retained Neff, of Lexington, Neb., to work for Superior.

Most of the final hearing was concerned, however, with the conflict of testimony over Neff's activities in Iowa.

First, Ivan D. Evans of Broken Bow, Neb., Neff's lawyer, offered the special investigating committee three affidavits challenging the accuracy of testimony given Wednesday by Robert K. Goodwin of Des Moines, Iowa's GOP national committeeman.

Then Goodwin once more took the witness chair and swore he was him two visits despite Neff's denial there was more than one.

Goodwin previously testified—and Neff had denied—that Neff offered him $2,500 for Hickenlooper's reelection campaign on a first visit and, on a return trip, had offered $1,000.

Neff not only denied making any offer of a campaign contribution, he swore he made no second trip to Des Moines to talk with Goodwin.

The special committee has turned over to the Justice Department this direct conflict in testimony.
